Waterproof backing | Super absorption fibre |
Non-woven layer | Foam layer | Silicone adhesive

The mx Health Silicone Foam Dressing is designed with a soft silicone layer that creates a non-adherent interface between the dressing and the wound bed. This prevents the dressing from sticking to the wound, minimising pain and trauma during dressing changes, especially for patients with sensitive or fragile skin.

The hydrophobic quality of the silicone used in the dressing allows the product to form a gentle yet effective seal around the wound, adhering securely to the surrounding skin without interacting with the wound bed.

The dressing remains securely in place, providing a protective barrier that shields the wound from external contaminants such as bacteria, while allowing the wound to breathe and heal naturally.

TOPICAL SPORTS MASSAGE CREAM

SYNERGISTIC INGREDIENT PROFILE

MSM + herbals

Helps ease stiffness & tension

Delivers a fast-absorbing, cooling effect that relaxes tight muscles and supports joint mobility through improved circulation and anti-inflammatory action.

Soothes overworked muscles

A synergistic blend of MSM, menthol, and herbal actives calms fatigued muscles while reducing inflammation and promoting recovery after physical exertion.

Pre & post-activity comfort

Provides dual phase thermosensory relief that prepares muscles before activity and aids recovery afterward by reducing soreness and stiffness.

Reduces sensations of discomfort

Clinically formulated with targeted counterirritants and botanicals that alleviate localised musculoskeletal pain while supporting tissue repair and relaxation.

St. John's Wort (Hypericum Perforatum)

Historically used in topical applications for its analgesic, anti-inflammatory, and tissue-repairing properties.

Tea Tree Oil (Melaleuca Alternifolia)

Helps to reduce redness, irritation, and inflammation, making it an effective component in formulations targeting acne, fungal infections, and various inflammatory skin conditions.

Arnica Montana

Widely utilised in topical therapeutics for its efficacy in reducing swelling and promoting the resolution of bruises, soft tissue injuries, and muscular discomfort.

MSM (Methylsulfonylmethane)

Bioavailable organic sulfur compound widely recognised for its anti-inflammatory and tissue-supporting properties.

Marigold (Calendula Officinalis)

Traditionally used for its calming and reparative effects on the skin, it is well-regarded for its ability to soothe irritation and support the healing of minor wounds, burns, abrasions, and cuts.

Menthol Crystals

A naturally occurring compound traditionally used as a cooling counterirritant in topical analgesic formulations. It works by stimulating cold-sensitive thermoreceptors in the skin, producing a cooling sensation.

Wintergreen Oil (Methyl Salicylate)

Its proven efficacy in reducing pain and inflammation makes it a staple in topical preparations designed for sports recovery, rheumatic conditions, and general musculoskeletal support.

Myofascial release tool
Code	Barcode
MX79512	5057881795124

COMPACT & EASY TO CLEAN

DURABLE STAINLESS STEEL DESIGN

The Myofascial Release Tool is expertly designed to target various areas of the body, addressing specific muscle groups to provide unparalleled relief from muscle pain while enhancing range of motion. With its uniquely contoured sections, this tool is engineered with the principles of myofascial in mind, applying precision pressure to the fascia – the connective tissue surrounding the muscles – to alleviate discomfort and increase mobility.

Featuring full hand and finger grip holes for ease of use and optimal control, this tool stands as a trusted choice for physiotherapists, chiropractors, and massage therapists. Excelling in instrument-assisted soft tissue mobilisation (IASTM), the Myofascial Release Tool boasts a stainless-steel design with bevelled edges to penetrate deeply into muscles to mobilise restricted fascia and release myofascial trigger points.

- 1 Larger muscle groups including shoulders and knees.
- 2 Muscle groups such as hamstrings and quadriceps.
- 3 Specific tendons and ligaments.
- 4 Sensitive areas including the neck and upper arms.
- 5 Target knots and tight areas.
- 6 Smaller regions such as the wrists, feet, and forearms.

BURNS HURT. THIS HELPS.

The Opulab Emergency Burn Care range is designed to address the multifaceted needs of burn treatment. Formulated with a specialised hydrogel composition, the range aids in pain relief, optimising healing conditions, and providing robust protection against secondary complications such as infection. Upon application, the hydrogel formulation absorbs excess heat from the burn site, creating a cooling effect that helps to alleviate discomfort while stabilising damaged tissue. The hydrogel layer ensures that the area remains adequately hydrated, fostering an environment that is conducive to optimal wound healing, while reducing recovery time. This combination of soothing relief and accelerated healing makes the Opulab Emergency Burn Care range suitable for treating a variety of burn injuries, including sunburn, first-degree burns, second-degree burns, and scalds.
